

Common Timetabling for Diploma Delivery

A second meeting took place with Senior Leaders from schools, colleges and Work-based learning, on Wednesday, 19th March 2008, to discuss the Common Timetabling proposals set out in the attached Briefing Note.

Colleagues who were unable to attend the meeting were invited to communicate their views by telephone or email to the 14-19 Partnership.

The proposals were agreed in principle.

In relation to Level 2, in particular, this means that all FE Colleges, some Work-based Learning Providers and a significant minority of schools, will need to move to the proposed common timetabling model to deliver diploma lines by September 2009. Institutions which are not delivering diplomas, but whose pupils wish to access a diploma line at another institution, will need to consider how access can be best managed in this early stage

By September 2010, it is envisaged that almost all institutions will be involved in delivering a diploma line.
